

Magic Might

This author within this writing is expressing a private personal tangible opinion.

On with the illusion(s) or could it be truth?

Illusion is one of the magic tactics used by magician(s), similarly, Illusion application of wording will also lead even so called learned to believe an untruth. Could it be Blind Trust or could it be fear of having the illusion of word crafting becoming exposed? Could judiciary be concerned with their Blind Trust Investments? Word crafting in honorable opinion is to this writer nothing more than utilizing illusion to con the sophisticated. Here lies another illusion the people should be understanding, Abraham Lincoln had an appropriate quote to deal with such illusion, paraphrased in short “You can fool all the people some of the time, some of the people all the time but not all the people all the time.”

As for Bar associations that require a party to have graduated from a brick and mortar accredited school, why such a requirement, is it to deprive a party that can do what Lincoln did from exposing the illusion being presented to those who claim to be learned? “Or” is to so the illusion can be carried forward to allow for a party to demand illusionary care to prevent a catastrophic event?

As this writer believes, to live a life of obtaining self gain and then attempting to bribe their way into a peaceful existence beyond this world should be seen as an illusionary attempt to justify conning man and God, where man maybe be conned, God is beyond reproach and requires not what man’s illusionary money buys. Illusionary money, yep, you read the writer correctly, tangible monetary promises by our government by past leaders words may bind the faith of the children and grandchildren to repay the tangible debt, however when leaders pledges to repay an illusionary intangible value, such does not bind the children and grandchildren.

Yep, a party may have a criminal record, unlike this writer, however if appropriate penitence is accommodated, and considering that certain crimes or of a “medical nature” or “not” applicable, the illusionary method of subliminal affect becomes applicable when such factors are actually irrelevant when it is the other party is attempting to conceal a criminal action. Is there a magic of redirecting attention? Consider that of an Alcoholic and a Pedophile, both require an external factor to become guilty of a crime against man; however proof is not required before God. Could there be an illusional method and means applicable to an Alcoholic or a Pedophile? Is it that both an Alcoholic and a Pedophile have instilled in their mind the need for something?

Could it be said that in the mind of those seeking money and power there is a violation being committed against man? It took nearly a lifetime for this writer to understand the scriptures meaning of the seed will suffer the fate of the parent. Is such fate of the seed not to know he will be seated not next to God? Double negative, even this writer knows how to write a triple negative: "I no not do that no more."

If opposing negatives cancel, could it be said that a singular negative carries an illusion? A philosophical question(s) present: Is it in all circumstances appropriate for negatives to cancel? Is negative thinking limited to the mind? Will a person who believes in negative thinking know the eternal of God's House? Is it possible that negative thinking instills illusional thoughts? Does the might of magic guarantee that success will be achieved?

Too slightly reverse the tile, does might of magic make right?

Forget not, scientist may be able to explain the moments after the "Big Bang", but have not explained the "Big Bang", so is it possible that multiple universe exist? Only the tangible maker (God) Knows"
